The Legacy of the AWIS San Diego Scholars: The Association for Women in Science (AWIS) is a national organization dedicated to achieving equity and full participation of women in science, mathematics, engineering and technology. Since 2003, six remarkable young women from the San Diego City College Math, Engineering, Science Achievement (MESA) Program have received a $1,000 scholarship from AWIS San Diego. Overcoming life challenges – first in their family to attend college, low income, single mom or military veteran, this is their inspiring story of transfer, achievement and success!

B.S. - Cell Biology, San Diego State University (2006)
Ph.D. Candidate – Neuroscience, Harvard University (Expected graduation 2013)

M.S. – Biology, University of North Florida (2010)
Professional Experience: Adjunct Biology Professor - Florida State College at Jacksonville, Jacksonville University, St John's River State College, and Columbia College

B.S. – Molecular Synthesis, University of California, San Diego (2009)
Ph.D. Candidate – Chemistry, Massachusetts Institute of Technology (Expected graduation 2015)

Gaby Baylon - AWIS San Diego Scholar (2007)
B.S. – Mechanical Engineering, University of California, San Diego (2010)
Ph.D. Candidate – Mechanical Engineering, Stanford University (Expected graduation 2016)
Professional Experience: Stress Analysis Engineer, Boeing

Cynthia Wood - AWIS San Diego Scholar (2007)
B.S. – Applied Mathematics, University of California, San Diego (2010)
Ph.D. Candidate – Computational and Applied Mathematics, Rice University (Expected graduation 2016)

Hue Simone - AWIS San Diego Scholar (2012)
Mathematics Major - Expected transfer to University of California, San Diego (Fall 2013)

Who will be the next AWIS scholar? What will be YOUR story?

More info: Visit www.sdcity.edu/mesa or scan this QR code