Seeds@City Farm

Please visit the Seeds@City farm stand each Thursday from 9:00 a.m. - 11:15a.m. in its new location in Gorton Quad, just outside of the cafeteria. This Thursday, March 21, 2013, Chef Ricardo Heredia from Alchemy Restaurant will be offering a cooking demonstration at 10:30 am. He will be using farm produce, so bring a few dollars, buy some veggies, and learn how to cook them by following Chef Ricardo’s lead!

Interested in becoming a community-supported agriculture shareholder? As a CSA shareholder, you make a commitment to help support a farm by prepaying for a share in their weekly harvest. At Seeds@City, we'll have your CSA share ready for you to pick up every Thursday morning between 9:30-11am. Our CSA shares ($20/week subscription) contain organic vegetables, fruit, herbs and flowers grown here on campus and picked that morning by City College students, staff, and faculty.

We heard about it in the fall at our annual book fair, and now The Far East: Everything Just As It Is has been published. Contributors will read from the anthology that combines fiction and non-fiction to create a portrait of life in the East San Diego County. From La Mesa to Ramona, from poetry to photography, this volume brings us visitors of the beautiful, despairing, and depraved. This edition is a project of So Say We All, a collaborative which publishes books and conducts reading, workshops, and performances under the direction of Justin Hudmall.

Get ready for an hour of fun and great performance with playwright, poet, and City’s own English professor Farrell J. Forman who will read excerpts from his works. Foreman’s plays have been produced professionally in theatres, colleges, recreation centers and community centers across the country. He has served as writing professor of playwriting at Ohio State University and the University of Louisville. Foreman is also the recipient of the Samuel Goldwyn Award for Playwriting, the Lorraine Hansberry Award, and a fellowship from the National Endowment for the Arts in playwriting. He is co-founder of Bear Arts Foundation, a national service organization for theatres and writers of color based in San Diego.

Come celebrate the release of our college’s literary journal featuring poetry, fiction, photography, art work, and creative non-fiction. Students, staff, faculty writers and artists serve as the editorial board and assist with the production of the journal. In addition to publications, this event features awards in various categories. Each year, the journal reveals the promise and talent of our writers, many of whom are published for the first time or whose subsequent works became new books. The MS Corporate Ed Auditorium is on C and 16th streets. Enter on C Street. Information: vescalan@sdccd.edu
