

WOMXN'S HISTORY Month 2021

WOMXN'S OURSTORY

We are intentionally using the "x" in "Womxn" to visually disrupt and challenge the notion that the identity derives from patriarchy. The terms woman, women, and womxn will be used individually and as a group to honor self-identity as personal identifiers. We are also using "Ourstory" to include the stories, contributions, and success of non-binary individuals.

City Women Rock Virtual Summit, Paving the Way: Building Your Legacy

March 8 | 11:00am - 1:30pm

youtube.com/SanDiegoCityCollege1914

"City Women Rock" is a one-day summit focused on inspiring, encouraging and empowering leadership development. The summit will be a collective of designated San Diego City College women students of diverse heritage and backgrounds. The program is focused on (1) motivating and empowering female students of color for course completion and (2) transfer. The conference seeks to provide students with information, motivation, and preparation for academic success and goal completion. The summit will also provide self-care awareness for City College women students who serve in multiple roles as leaders and care givers within their home and college communities. The program is focused on motivating students through leadership, empowerment, self-care and access to voice.

Mentoring Women: Hiring Equity and Excellence for Women in Higher Education

March 17 | 11:00am - 1:00pm

To Register: tinyurl.com/mentoringwomxn

The Hiring Equity and Excellence for Women in Higher Education event will bring together women and supporters of women who share a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Women continue to face challenges within institutional structures, systems, and mindsets that are direct barriers to climbing the academic career ladder and mobility.

Join the discussion towards a better conclusion of these barriers and set strategic call to action objectives to dismantle those barriers and instead build structures that promote gender balance in institutional leadership.
